

STEVE NAVE BIOGRAPHY

Steve Nave has been casting feature films, television shows, commercials, web series, music videos for the past 30 years. To date he has cast 48 films, 60-plus television shows, and over 70 commercials. From his earliest days in casting Steve has worked with stars like Charlton Heston, Gregory Peck, Jimmy Stewart, Doris Day and the legendary Elton John. Having worked with many talents in show business, he has developed many strong personal relations and industry contacts.

Film genres he has casted include action-adventure, comedy, western, faith-based and family films. Films like Chinaman's

Chance, which sheds light on an American story, included over 30 stars with international appeal in many major markets. Another film that he casted and is currently shooting, called "Unbelievable!!!!!!" (yes the number of exclamation is correct), is a comedy with over 35 stars and well-known characters from all the different eras of the Star Trek franchise. The Long Ride Home, a faith-based western with international stars, is a story that the whole family can watch and enjoy.

The same holds true for his television casting. He has casted for every genre, such as dramas, comedies, fantasies, talk shows (for example, Dr. David Viscott, a show that was one of the first to talk about the then unknown Aids epidemic), as well as game shows (one of the best known would be the hit series "Hollywood Squares"). For the pilot of that show he casted some of the biggest stars to be found, including Michael Douglas (one of the top three movie stars on the planet at that time), Bill Cosby (star of the very popular Cosby show). The then president of the United States, Bill Clinton, wished us a successful run of the show on camera because of those stars and many others. We were able to sell the show for 3 years in advance - a feat yet to be duplicated.

He is always looking for new opportunities, and challenges that will entertain, inspire, and enlighten viewers all over the world.
