Technical Skills

Some of my work has been recognized at film festivals and attracted millions of viewers on video-sharing websites such as youtube

Working as a Production Assistant, Writer, Director and Editor in both television and the film industry gave me end-to-end experience in the field of visual storytelling

Proven competence in working with others in a team effort and therefor I collaborate easily with co-workers

Being an independent filmmaker made me self-motivated and able to solve problems and learn on my own initiative
